THE FRANKLIN CALENDAR

SEPTEMBER 9.

I long earnestly for a return of those peaceful times when I could sit down in sweet society with my English philosophical friends. Much more happy should I be thus employed in your most desirable company than in that of all the grandees of the earth. (Penny France, letter to Sir Joseph Banks of London.)—172.

MORE EXTENSIVE ADVERTISING CAMPAIGN OUTLINED BY THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Will Make Effort to Get Bulk of 1915 Travel to Come Here; Winter Resort Feature Will Be Pushed by Committee

A more extensive policy will be pursued by the chamber of commerce this winter and next spring as a result of the decision of the advertising committee yesterday. There will be another meeting of the committee next week when the suggestions advanced by T. H. Alexander, advertising agent for the chamber, will be discussed. The 1915 advertising campaign will be stepped up and plans will be made for an extensive campaign this winter. Road publicity will be given consideration and folders containing information relative to the Pike's Peak Highway will be issued. It is believed that the greater part of the transcontinental travel can be attracted over that route next summer.

In view of the fact that several hundred thousand people are expected to pass through this region next summer every effort will be made to get them to stop over here. The chamber of commerce budget amounted to $16,000 this year and with the dues and general fund the organization had about $22,000 to spend. This sum has been partially expended on the general work of the committee, advertising, etc. The extent of the campaign this winter will depend upon the condition of the treasury, but the association has decided to adopt a broader policy. $100,000 on this will be more work.

The agricultural campaign, which is carried on by the state land board and the state fair, will be continued in cooperation with the railroad and greater effort will be made to get more settlers for the state. The city conditions committee is planning to have a people in the city for the next week will be the suggestions made by T. H. Alexander, advertising agent for the chamber of commerce last night, and will help a great deal in advertising Colorado Springs.

1914 Budget.
The 1914 budget of the chamber of commerce was distributed among the various committees as follows:
Advertising committee—$1,000
A comprehensive advertising campaign to build up winter business, including publication of authoritative literature on Colorado Springs as the ideal residence city.
Agriculture committee—$1,000
For the county fair, in eastern Colorado and for central Colorado exposition. Other development work.
Automobile committee—$1,000
Production of a book on the automobile in Colorado. Advertising in Texas and southern California. Moving pictures. Lectures in California and elsewhere. Publication of new folder on automobile suitability for Colorado. Other work.
Tourist travel committee—$1,000
Maintenance of local information booth. Entertainment of tourists. Other work.
Finance and highways committee—$1,000
To help promote cross-country auto road race. Looking of roads. Publishing pamphlets to log books. State good roads campaign.
Convention committee—$1,000
Western Passenger association. Other conventions. Campaigning for 1915 convention.
Trade and industries committee—$1,000
Gathering data and information. Looking to greater industrial development.
Contingent fund—$1,000
For needs which may later appear. (This sum is sufficiently large to enable the chamber of commerce to keep its promise to subscribers to protect them from other solicitations).
Total—$16,000

All-Year-Around Boosting.
Emphasis will be laid in the advertising of Colorado Springs as an all-around summer and winter resort. As a result of the Pike's Peak Ocean highway, the Pike's Peak region has received a large amount of publicity from eastern papers and magazines, and publications from all parts of the country. Among the magazines to give more than two-page stories to the run are: The Motorist, Omaha, Neb. Automobile Topics, New York City; The Automobile Journal, Rhode Island; The Pacific Motor and American Motor News, San Francisco. The following newspapers have published news items about the run: Kansas City Journal, New York Sun, Salt Lake Sun, Salt Lake City Herald, St. Joseph Gazette, Wheeling Register, Herald-Republic, Salt Lake City, Houston Christian Science Monitor, Philadelphia Inquirer, Hoboken Observer, the News, Washington, N. C.; Chicago Post, and the Denver News.

60,000 BELGIAN REFUGEES ARE ON WAY TO ENGLAND

Tristram Making "Elaborate Preparations for Caring for Thousands of War Victims"
LONDON, Sept. 9.—Sixty thousand Belgian refugees are expected to arrive in England in the next 10 days. The British government extended today a general invitation to all Belgians made homeless through the war to come to England and the volunteer war refugees committee, organized by the Duchess of Vendôme, has undertaken, with government supervision, to receive and care for these refugees.

Postmaster General Herbert L. Samuel was loudly cheered in the House of Commons when he referred to the fact that British hospitality has been extended to the Belgians. He said the committee was in touch with 3,600 Belgians now on the way to England, and that thousands of homeless persons at Malines, Louvain, Liege and elsewhere in Belgium, who could not be cared for by their own government, must seek temporary refuge in the British Isles.

Lord Hugh Cecil, chairman of the executive committee of the war refugees committee, and Lady Lugard, in active charge of the care of the fugitives, already have arranged for the organization of committees in 52 towns and cities where the refugees will be sent from London. The committee also will care for the refugees from Russia, France and other allied countries.

Scottish and Welsh towns are especially anxious to entertain the Belgians and the committee believes it can make provision for a million refugees if necessary. Sanitary conditions and lack of food in Belgian territory fought over and a probable attack on Antwerp will make it necessary for hundreds of thousands of women and children to leave that country.

The British government is providing boats to send to transport the people. Women and children are given preference, but many men unfit for military service also will be transferred to British territory and later will return to Belgium.

British and French Object to Germans in Red Cross Crew

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Just when the Red Cross was about to sail for Europe with her cargo of nurses, doctors and medical supplies to help the wounded in the war, was today an uncertain question.

Miss Mabel Boardman, chairman of the board of relief of the American Red Cross society, had hoped that the ship would get away tomorrow, but today she announced that the sailing had been indefinitely postponed.

The question raised by the British and French governments regarding the neutrality status of the ship Red Cross if she carries Germans among her crew when she sails with surgical nurses and supplies for the battle field of Europe, is responsible for the delay in the departure of the ship.

The Red Cross society is the Hamburg-American line Hamburg, Germany, loaned to the American Red Cross by that line, and has among her engine room, stewards and sailors a number of native Germans who have taken out their first, but not their final, naturalization papers in the United States. It was reported today that if the Red Cross organization sought to supplement these Germans with Americans and Spaniards, as announced yesterday, the ship would be withdrawn from the organization's service.

The Germans in the engine room are familiar with the vessel's machinery, and the officials of the Hamburg-American line, it was said, were reluctant to have them displaced. The chief engineer of the Red Cross today took the names of available engineers who applied for positions.

DANCE DISCONTINUED—J. G. Hiestand, proprietor of the Iron Springs pavilion in Manitou, has announced that there will be no more dances at the pavilion this season. The dances have been held Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights during the summer.

Deaths and Funerals

Word has been received here of the death of James Lovell Little, aged 69, in Brookline, Mass., August 20 and of his wife, Mrs. Mary Robbins Little, aged 62, August 21. Mrs. Little was a daughter of Dr. Edward Revere, assistant surgeon of the Twentieth regiment, Massachusetts volunteers.

The funeral of Miss Marguerite A. Crozier, 71 years old, of 108 North Washington street, who died at a local hospital Tuesday will be held this morning from the Hallist & Baker undertaking rooms at 10:30 o'clock. Interment in Evergreen cemetery.

The funeral of Miss Bessie Lee Fouts, 31 years old, of Frankfort, Kan., who died at a local hospital Tuesday, was held yesterday from the D. F. Law undertaking rooms. The body probably will be sent to Kansas today. She is survived by a sister and had lived here for the last two years.

The body of Miss Kate Stiles, formerly of Woodward, Ill., who died at her home, 2 El Paso boulevard, Colorado City, Tuesday, was sent to Illinois yesterday for interment. She came here two years ago from Illinois where she formerly was a nurse.

Ghent Asks Protection of the American Flag

Text of Message Sent Wilson by Ghent, Asking Aid of United States
Made Public
NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The Independent makes public today the text of the message in behalf of Belgium, sent President Wilson by Maj. Louis L. Seaman, together with a message from E. Schaun, the burgomaster of Ghent, as follows:
"Office of the Burgomaster, Ghent, September 3, 1914.
"Monsieur—I have read with emotion and at the same time with great satisfaction the generous and powerful appeal that you have addressed to the president of the United States. I am deeply grateful and, in the name of my fellow citizens, thank you with all my heart.
"I am also glad to learn that you have interested yourself in our Ghent ambulances and our asylums for refugees. I add my voice to your appeal and I beg you to urge the president of the United States to exert all his efforts in order that we may soon see an end of the war, and that the inhumanity of the conflict may be lessened.
"The city of Ghent, in which was concluded the treaty of peace of 1814, puts itself confidently under the high protection of the American nation.
"Pray accept assurances of my distinguished consideration.
"E. BRAUN
"Burgomaster of Ghent.
"To Monsieur Louis L. Seaman."
Seaman's Appeal.
The appeal of Major Seaman to President Wilson, to which Mr. Braun refers in his cable message, reads as follows:
"The burgomaster of Ghent, where the treaty of peace was signed 100 years ago, authorizes me to respectfully request that, in case of invasion, the city be placed under the protection of the American flag for the safeguarding of its people and its historic monuments.
"The German government holding Brussels prevents the American minister from communicating with his government. Why should the American government permit the German ambassador at Washington to have free communication with his government at Berlin?
"Could not the United States join with other neutral nations, such as Italy, Norway, Sweden, Spain, Switzerland, Holland and the South American republics, in demanding a cessation of the atrocities and barbarities now being committed by Germany?
"Marquet has offered his luxurious Palace hotel at Ostend to the British White Cross organization to house destitute refugees, victims of German brutality."

Butte Barber Refuses to Wait on Multiman; Given 60 Days in Jail

BUTTE, Mont., Sept. 9.—D. J. Waldner, a barber, was sent to jail today for 60 days by Judge Advocate Major James B. Roote in the summary military court because he had refused to wait on Private Huff of Company A, National guard, last Saturday night when the soldier went into the barber shop to get a haircut.

Waldner justified his action by declaring that many of his patrons were opposed to the presence of the military in Butte and he feared that if he waited upon the soldier he would lose his trade.

Major Roote declared Waldner guilty of insulting the governor, the uniform of the National guard and the United States army and with bearing indignity upon the American flag.

Imbedded in the solid trunk of a tree in Deerling Oaks, Portland, Ore., where it had rested for about 25 years, a bullet was disclosed when an employee of the park department cut through the trunk of the tree and felled it. Examination of the bullet showed that it was of a kind used more than two centuries ago, and it is believed it was fired in the Indian battle of 1689.

AMERICAN PACKERS CONTROL OUTPUT OF BEEF IN ARGENTINA

Value of South American Beef as Check on Price Here Has Been Destroyed
NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Beef packers of the United States are now in absolute control of the Argentine output of beef, thus destroying the value of Argentine beef as a competitive check on the price of native beef, according to testimony given before Chief Magistrate McCadd today at the inquiry into the advance in food prices.

Jack Bloch, member of a firm owning several meat markets in this city, asserted that every bit of beef from Argentine must now be bought from the American packers.

As an instance of how this control influenced the price, the witness stated that at one time beef hearts could be bought for 25 cents each. When the American packers obtained control of the Argentine output, he continued, beef hearts were put into cold storage, thus diminishing the supply so that today the cost of these hearts is about $1.50 each.

The packers have arranged the territory outside New York city so that the small dealers are at their mercy, Bloch testified. In a small town incapable of supporting more than one good-sized establishment, one packing concern is located and the butchers are forced to buy from that one packer.

In large places the business is split up. Asked to explain the cause of the present shortage of beef, the remedies for the present condition, he offered the following suggestion for action by congress:

An export duty should be placed on beef; the government land of the west should be thrown open for grazing; killing of any female calf under three or five years old, or any calf weighing less than 150 pounds, should be prohibited; 10 per cent of the income tax should be used for fostering the raising of cattle; public slaughter houses, like those in England, should be established by the government.

RAILROADS APPEAL TO WILSON FOR AID

President Asked to Help in Tiding Over Financial Difficulties
WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—President Wilson began consideration tonight of an appeal laid before him today by a committee of railroad executives representing every large road in the country. He was asked to aid the railroads in tiding over financial difficulties arising from the war in Europe. No specific plan was presented.

The railroad men were hopeful after the conference that Mr. Wilson, through a public letter or otherwise, might show that he believed the railroads should be relieved of some burdens. They also believed they had laid the groundwork for consideration of specific requests to be made later. These requests were undevoted to include a postponement of consideration of the railway securities bill now pending in congress, legislation allowing the interstate commerce commission to take into consideration general conditions in passing on petitions for rate cases, and the reopening of the recently decided advance freight rate cases.

After the conference the railroad executives met Commissioners Clements, McChord, Clark and Daniels of the interstate commerce commission. A copy of an address presented to the president was laid before the commissioners, as altered by events since the outbreak of the European war, was explained.

At the White house tonight it was said the president would give careful consideration to the problem. He indicated his sympathy with the appeal of the railroads, but made no promises.

EMBARGO ON ARMS ON THE MEXICAN BORDER LIFTED

Recognition of Government and Means Removal of Troops from Vera Cruz, Say Rebels
EL PASO, Tex., Sept. 9.—Gen. John J. Pershing, commanding the border patrol from Fort Bliss, Tex., received today orders from Washington to lift the embargo on arms which has been in effect since the occupation of Vera Cruz by American troops. The order was executed immediately.

American soldiers who have been patrolling the international line east and west of El Paso were removed to their garrisons. The inspection of international traffic on the bridges spanning the Rio Grande was stopped. Heretofore each vehicle, passenger or pedestrian was searched by American soldiers and all baggage closely inspected.

The lifting of the embargo will have little effect on the armament of Constitutional troops in northern Mexico, in the opinion of army men here, since the peculiar army regulations existing since the rescinding of President Taft's prohibition have made it almost impossible to prevent smuggling. However, it will enable General Villa to import artillery and artillery ammunition, which heretofore have been smuggled with much greater difficulty than small arms and rifle cartridges.

Today's act by the war department was hailed by agents here of the Constitutional government as a virtual recognition of Mexico's new government, which will proceed slowly, it was declared, the removal of American troops from Vera Cruz. The Villa agents appeared stated over the incident, while no comment was forthcoming from Carranza's government.

PROTEST SEIZURE OF TURKISH BATTLESHIPS

New York Mussulmans and Hindus Charge Britain With Act of Spoliation
WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—Protests against Great Britain's seizure of the two battleships being built in England for Turkey at the outbreak of the war, adopted at a meeting of Ottoman, Indian and Persian Mussulmans and Hindus in New York, have been sent to congressmen here and members of the cabinet.

"Great Britain may have had the right strictly speaking to take over these ships," says the protest, "but since she was not at war with Turkey she was legally and morally bound to pay for them on the spot. She has not, and she has committed an act of spoliation, pure and simple at the expense of Turkey. This is as great a breach of international law as the violation of Belgian neutrality by Germany. Great Britain seems to have made a law unto herself to injure and humiliate whenever opportunity arises the only Mussulman state which has remained independent and whose sovereignty is vested the dignity of caliph."

"What is the meaning of this attitude?" the protest inquires. "Surely, it can only be that Great Britain is secretly striving to destroy at any cost, that of her good name included, the Ottoman empire, the bulwark of Islam. Therefore, we Ottoman, Indian and Persian Mussulmans and Hindus inhabiting New York, invite the world of Islam in its entirety to join in our protest."

Three Vessels Leave for Foreign Ports

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Two steamships, the first to leave Southampton since the war began, arrived from that port today and three left New York for other European ports.

The Red Star liner Lapland brought 150 Americans, including several who corroborated the persistent reports that Russian troops have been passing through England on their way to aid the allied forces on the continent. The Royal Mail steamship, Orube, coming by way of the West Indies, brought nine Americans from the war zone who were unable to reach here except by this circuitous route.

The vessels which sailed were the American liner Philadelphia for Liverpool with 36 passengers; the Spanish steamer Infanta Isabella for Barcelona; the Innis of the Greek line for Piræus, carrying Red Cross surgeons and nurses who will care for wounded soldiers in Serbia.

At the close of 1913 the total railroad mileage of the world was 655,842, and at that time the United States contained 234,000 miles of track, as against 118,000 miles in Europe.

RE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK
Try Grandmother's old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur
Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, attracted or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.
Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy. RUSSIANS HAVE DRIVEN AUSTRIANS FROM COUNTRY
Russian Embassy Issues Statement Explaining Recent Activities of the Army
WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—The Russian embassy issued the following statement tonight as to the activity of the Russian army:
"September 6 and 7 we attacked the first Austrian army at Tomarow in the northwest, Grubeshovo in the northeast and Rawa Ruska in the southeast. The Austrian army retired in complete disorder pursued by our troops. At Prampol our cavalry swept down on the baggage trains of the enemy."
"In the direction of Lublin the Austro-German troops have been forced out of their fortified position and are retreating to the south. Columns of supplies and baggage trains which were retreating along the high road from Jassow to Annopol were scattered by the fire of our artillery from the left bank of the Vistula river."
"On the front from Rawa Ruska, in Galicia northwest of Lemberg, to the Dniester river, serious fighting is in progress. The Austrian army which was defeated at Lwow (the Russian name for Lemberg) having received reinforcements."
"The fourteenth (Tyrolean) Austrian army corps near Rawa Ruska made a night attack on our troops September 7, but in the morning was compelled to retire, leaving in our hands one regiment, color and 500 prisoners."
"Near Zarnowitza on the Russian side of the north Galician border, we have captured a German aeroplane."
"In East Prussia only skirmishing is reported."
Embassy officials say this report meant that practically all Austrian troops had been driven from Russian territory.
England is ahead of the United States in the development of the automatic telephone service, and contracts for automatic exchange of the total value of nearly half a million dollars have been placed.

ALL-COLLEGE RECEPTION AT COSSII TOMORROW

Classes Now Running Smoothly; Class Flight Tomorrow Morning
at 7 o'clock

Colorado college opened yesterday and now, barring the freshmen, everything is running along smoothly. The freshmen and sophomore classes are lining up for the class battle tomorrow morning, while the upper classes are planning for the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. reception to be held tomorrow night at Coosii hall. All students are invited to this reception, and alumni of the institution are to be special guests.

The enrollment this year will be about 600, definite figures still being lacking. The girls' halls are comfortably filled while Hagerman hall, the men's dormitory, is filled.

With the commons dining room accommodating about 75 men already, this feature promises to be an interesting one this year.

William Argo has been elected editor of the Tiger, the college newspaper, this year, to succeed Lin Giv. resigned. The first issue of the paper will be out tomorrow.

Foreigner's Idea of Gratitude Wouldn't Suit the Legal Code

A few weeks ago the Associated Charities secured a position in a Manitou hotel for a foreigner, who had applied to them for aid. Yesterday the man appeared at the association's offices and handed a package to one of the secretaries.

"I give you these," he said, "because I thank you for getting me work."

The secretary opened the package and found six silver teaspoons bearing the name of the hotel where the man was employed. She asked him where he got them, and he told her that he took them, stating that the hotel had many more and that the people were leaving would need these and he added:

"And I can get you some big spoons if you want them."

He took the secretary the best part of the afternoon to explain to the foreigner that the American code of police ethics would not permit any such gifts, although the Associated Charities appreciated his gratitude.

The foreigner returned the spoons to his employer and promised not to take anything in the future that did not belong to him.

Peace on Earth at Last, Gnebelein Talk Tonight

More than 700 people filled the auditorium of the First Presbyterian church last night to hear A. C. Gnebelein of New York city, who is conducting a series of interdenominational Bible studies at the Y. M. C. A. this week. Gnebelein began his evening talk in the church on account of the large audience. In his address last night he gave a review of his work here and showed the connection between all his talks, emphasizing the point that people should attend all his classes to get the full benefit of the work.

This afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Y. M. C. A. Gnebelein will hold his regular Bible class, and this evening at 8 o'clock he will speak at the church on "The Glorious Kingdom and Peace on Earth at Last." Tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock he will hold his last Bible class, and that night will speak on "The Call of God to His People," summing up all his subjects.

ALL-WARD IS REELECTED SCHOOL'S TRUANT OFFICER

At the regular monthly meeting of the board of education last night, Harold Allward was reelected truant officer and two new teachers were elected. Miss Etta M. King and Miss Marjorie Stewart both of this city. The contracts for the winter fuel supply of the public schools were let, and the regular monthly bills were allowed. Work on the addition to the Helen Hunt school was reported as progressing rapidly. The contract calls for completion December 1.

ENROLLMENT INCREASING

The public schools in Colorado Springs are filling rapidly, and the enrollment is nearing the 5,000 mark, according to an announcement made yesterday. The number of students in each of the classes are crowded for room, and late enrollments are coming in daily.

SPRINGS PEOPLE GOING TO CALHAN COUNTY FAIR

Trade and Industries Committee of
Chamber of Commerce to Run
Excursion During Fair

More than 500 people are expected to attend the El Paso county fair, to be held in Calhan, September 23 to 26, according to Secretary A. W. Henderson of the Chamber of Commerce, and the trade and industries committee is making preparations for a big local delegation. Frank F. Wulff has been appointed chairman of a committee on arrangements and will select his aides today. The appointment was made yesterday by chairman W. E. McClung at a meeting of the trade and industries committee.

Last summer the excursion was run under the auspices of this committee and more than 500 people attended. A special train will carry the local delegation and several parties are planning to motor to Calhan. There will be a "Colorado Springs" day at the fair, but the date has not been decided. The local Chamber of Commerce has offered $75 in prizes for exhibits, and much interest has been shown by contestants. The winning exhibits will be sent here for the central exposition.

The purpose of the excursion to Calhan is to get Colorado Springs people in closer touch with the rural communities. It will be a regular old-fashioned country fair with stock and dairy exhibits, perfume, sticks, balloons and popcorn. The committee under Mr. Wulff will work up interest in the excursion.

ARE HALF OF SUNDAY'S CONVERTS CONVERTED?

Toledo Man Writes to Learn Success of Bible Evangelist's Campaign in Springs

"Did the revival work in Colorado Springs do more good than harm, and have one-half of Billy Sunday's converts stuck?"

This was the question asked Postmaster O. W. Ward in a letter received from Charles Rich Johnson, a newspaper man of Toledo, O. Johnson, who is a descendant of John Quincy Adams and a well-known journalist and short-story writer, made the request with the idea of collecting data for a series of articles on the evangelist. Inquiries still continue to come through the postoffice relative to Sunday's campaign here, according to Mr. Ward.

Red Cross Lists to Be Available Today

Lists for voluntary subscriptions to the work of the American Red Cross association will be placed in the banks and at the offices of The Gazette and the Evening Telegraph today by the Pike's Peak chapter of the organization which is conducting a campaign to raise funds for the war relief work of the association.

Arrangements have practically been completed for a meeting early next week of the extension committee of 100, to which the public will be invited and at which S. Poulter Morris of Denver, who is in charge of the raising funds in this country, will be the principal speaker. Others who will talk at the meeting have not yet been announced.

Mrs. Lois Hudson Allen, managing editor and owner of the Manitou Journal and formerly connected with the press in Colorado Springs, has been added to the committee in charge of publicity for the campaign.

Social music has been arranged and an offering for foreign missions will be taken. Everybody is welcome.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL

Health is Worth Saving, and Some Colorado Springs People Know How to Save It

Many Colorado Springs people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Weak kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health—the slightest defect is dangerous. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—a remedy that has helped thousands of kidney sufferers. Here is a Colorado Springs citizen's recommendation:

"W. Perkins, 324 N. Spaulding St., Colorado Springs, Colo., says: 'One of my family suffered from kidney trouble for years. We got Doan's Pills at the D. V. Butcher Drug Co. and they soon gave relief. I recommend Doan's Kidney Pills just as highly now as I did when I first endorsed them. Since then they have cured me of backache and kidney and bladder weakness.'"

THE PRIMARIES

THERE were two disappointing features to the primaries held last Tuesday. One is the lightness of the vote, here and throughout the state; the other the lateness of the returns. At the time this is written, twenty-four hours after the polls closed, the count is still incomplete, and it is impossible to know the make-up of any of the three tickets. Everywhere the vote has been light, and it is safe to say that throughout the state not more than 30 per cent of the registered vote was cast.

This is due to a variety of causes, the principal one probably being the complete absorption of public interest in the European war and the consequent lack of interest in politics. It is a truism that a heavy vote cannot be polled in any election, however important, without a thorough previous discussion of issues and tickets and the awakening of strong public interest. Nothing of the sort has been done in this campaign. People talk and read nothing but war, and it is safe to say that a large proportion of the voters actually did not know that the primary was to be held until Sunday or Monday.

Again, the primary system is still an innovation, and the people as a whole do not yet realize that it is as much their business to go to the polls on primary day as to elect the candidates as it is to vote in the general election to choose their officials. They are accustomed to leave this work to political conventions, and, although the results of this primary apparently indicate a disappointing lack of interest, it certainly would not be fair to base a verdict of failure on the showing made.

The principle of the primary is essentially sound. If it is a civic duty for the voters themselves to choose their officials, it is no less their duty to select candidates. To leave to a little coterie of professional politicians the task of making up a list of candidates for the people to vote for, too often means giving them the power to frustrate the popular will.

The primary law certainly is not a model measure; indeed, it is only a makeshift, but it is so much better than the old convention method, and it can be so easily amended and made thoroughly effective, that its enactment should be regarded as a forward step. And the people should see to it that the necessary amendment, that is, the elimination of the assembly feature, is made without delay.

THE TURNING POINT

IF THE present status of the campaign in France indicates anything, this week's operations mark the turning point in the war. For six weeks the Germans have fought a successful aggressive campaign. They have sustained heavy losses, they have met with unexpected delays, due chiefly to Belgian resistance, but they have carried out their plan of marching to Paris. Now, almost within rifle shot of the French capital, they have sustained their first serious reverse.

It is not the mere fact that the Germans have been even temporarily checked outside Paris that leads to the assumption that fortune has turned against them. The truth is that they have passed the period of high tide. The German plan of organization depends on quickness of movement.celerity is the keynote of German efficiency. In fighting even France and Russia, a not-to-speak of England and Belgium, Germany can succeed only by making a quick invasion of France and capturing Paris in time to permit the transfer of most of the army to the eastern border before the Russian mobilization is complete.

This program has been followed to the letter, and thus far it has been at least partially successful. But henceforth the difficulties will multiply daily. For one thing, the Russian mobilization was completed in about half the time expected. Not even the French, who well know the sources of their ally, supposed that the Russian army could be placed in the field in less than thirty days. But the army was actually mobilized and on its way to the frontier by August 17, or in nineteen days. Moreover, the Russians have displayed marvelous efficiency. Their army is not the disorganized and indifferent mob that faced the Japanese ten years ago. It is thoroughly trained and equipped, capably led and animated by patriotic fervor. This time the Muscovite hordes know what they are fighting for and believe in it which is more than could be said for them when they went against the Japanese. They have overwhelmed the Austrians and made substantial advances against the Germans. On the showing thus far there is every reason to expect that they will steadily advance, even though their progress will probably be slow in East Prussia.

Another powerful factor operating against German success is the steady accretion of the allied forces in France. They are coming in small, individual units, a few thousand Hindu troops, a few thousand Senegalese, a few thousand Turks and every day another shipload of British recruits. It seems pretty well established that Russian regiments are arriving regularly, and it will not be many days until the forces raised in Canada, Australia and New Zealand will be on the scene. In the aggregate they number hundreds of thousands.

True, the fighting efficiency of such a heterogeneous force is inferior to that of an equal number of troops of one nationality, trained together as the Germans have been. But all of them have fighting records. There are no better soldiers anywhere than the Sikhs and Gurkhas of India and the native troops of the French Sudan. The Canadians distinguished themselves in the Boer war; indeed, it is said that about four-fifths of the Canadian volunteers in the present instances are veterans of the South African campaign.

The issue of this war will almost certainly be determined according to relative resources. The side that can put the most men in the field can hold out longest, and this is chiefly a matter of money and population. Germany has no colonies to draw on, and the maximum fighting strength of its own people is stated as 5,500,000 men. Austria can add 4,000,000 more, such as they are.

But on the other side Russia alone can put more men in the field than Germany and Austria combined. England's recruiting ability is probably even greater, with India and the other colonies eager to help. France can bring untold thousands from Africa. It takes time, but in the long run it will decide the war.

From the four quarters of the globe the allies are rallying their forces to the French battlefields. Paris may or may not fall, that is a mere incident. The thought that makes one shudder is, what will happen when the combined armies, gathered from America, Asia and Africa, begin the inevitable march on Berlin? It will be like the slow but certain movement of a glacier irresistible, unyielding, crushing and grinding everything before it.

DISHONEST JOURNALISM

To the Editor of The Gazette.
In its leading editorial yesterday the Evening Telegraph said:
"The Republicans have a very important duty to perform in this primary. For to that party the people are looking for candidates whom they can support upon the platform of law and order and peace and prosperity for Colorado. The Progressive party makes no definite pronouncement upon this vital question. The Democratic party has gone over to the forces of disorder and insurrection." etc.
Ought not this rank misstatement of self-evident facts bring a blush to those who have kept in touch with political affairs in Colorado the past 12 months and more? Ought not the Republicans of El Paso county be proud of their "organ of a lost cause" when it so brazenly assails the truth? The editor of the Telegraph, who evidently hopes to be allowed to unilaterally approach the people by misleading the people in a matter that should need no argument, wilfully distorts the truth in the hope of gaining votes for a cause that the people repudiated almost unanimously two years ago.

Let me say not have the privilege of gaining the information that people of ordinary intelligence are familiar with, allow me to state for the information of the Telegraph editor that the Progressives are conducting their campaign this year on the broad platform of "law and order, and justice," which means that all citizens of Colorado must obey the law and maintain order, but that, in so doing, absolute justice must prevail. In other words, the law was made to control all elements in the community, and not certain classes, and there never can be absolute good order until special interests obey the mandates of the people as cheerfully and as willingly as the humblest worker.

Justice recognizes neither high nor low estate, neither millionaire nor pauper, and special privilege is a thing that shall never endure in free America. For the sake of our country, and to obey any law that is imposed or put upon by those who hold more than an abundance of this world's goods, is not justice, but special privilege, and that which the advocates of the Progressive principles in this campaign will never stand for such an interpretation. Absolute obedience to the law on the part of all citizens is the motto on which we hope to win, and the rank falsehoods of newspapers that joy in the serving of special privilege will not gain the offices for the Telegraph or its self-serving satellites.

A newspaper that wilfully misrepresents its political opponents as the Telegraph did in the editorial referred to never can gain and hold the confidence of the voting public, for truth will always assert itself in the first show-down.

THE NEED OF FIRE ENGINES.
James J. Montague in the New York American.
With $55,000,000 a day burning up in Europe, Uncle Sam begins to see the necessity of more fire-fighting ships to give fire protection to our coast.

WHERE TO DRAW THE LINE.
From the Nebraska State Journal.
American women are leaving London for Paris in spite of the warnings of a London Page. If these strong-willed get into trouble in Paris, they should be left to save themselves as best they can. Americans who never saw their own state capital, to say nothing of Pike's Peak, are cheerfully allowing their money to be spent to extricate Americans unavailably trapped in Europe. The line should be drawn upon those who stubbornly walk open-eyed into the trap.

LIBERTY IMPAIRED.
From the Chicago Tribune.
The vision of the three most enlightened countries of Europe destroying each other on the fields of northern France, while the Russian autocrat gathers his hordes to overrun Germany is one to terrify civilized mankind.

No good can come from the fighting around Chatterbox. Whichever side loses, civilization loses. If the battle should be inconclusive civilization would lose none the less from the losses to the civilized nations taking part.

In a war between a bigoted and backward nation and a free and forward nation the result may be for progress.

In a war between Russia and Germany, for instance, a German victory would bring better conditions to the inhabitants of any territory captured, and it also would bring greater freedom in the defeated country.

But in this fighting a French defeat must result in the setback of republican ideals.

If Russia then comes successfully to the rescue of her ally will not the war be supreme in Europe?

The immediate outlook is not favorable to progress.

We watch miserably this destruction of civilization and wonder how the triumph of bigotry will affect the world for the next hundred years.

SANDSQUAKING BELGIUM.

From Collier's Weekly.
The apologists for Germany's war policy, including even such scholars as Professor Kuno Francke and Hugo Munsterberg of Harvard university, find it curious to discover that Belgium, from their disavowal of the war, they prefer long diatribes on race hatred and commercial jealousy, endless hair-splitting as to the intricate diplomatic chess playing that preceded the explosion.

But Belgium is the key to the whole miserable tragedy. It is over 60 years now since Germany solemnly guaranteed its neutrality of this little country. Belgium, for all his policy of "blood and iron," has not yet been able to make an armistice, supported by the world's opinion, since 1870. Not only did Belgium not invade France by the terms of the 1870 treaty, but they saved up the project of invading Belgium and their wounded by the terms of the 1870 treaty.

The Belgians, therefore, stand before the world as the embodiment of trust, military force, a power to which no promise is sacred. This is no autocracy no more, it is a democracy, and it is a democracy that represents American political life. The power-crazed militarists at Berlin must everything on winning, and the future must show whether the modern world can tolerate any such at the head of a great government and a great people.

This is why public opinion everywhere is against the Germans, and why it is justified. A teacher who says no moral wrong in what Germany has done to Belgium is not our idea of a good guide for youth. The men we have in mind are Professor Francke and Professor Munsterberg of Harvard.

Playing Too Safe

BY RUTH CAMERON

There is a strong feeling in favor of cowardly and prudential proverbs. The sentiments of a man while he is full of ardor and hope are to be received. It is supposed, with some qualification. But when the same person has ignominiously failed and begins to eat up his words, he should be listened to like an oracle.

I sat in a railway station the other day behind two men who had arrived a half-hour before their train time. The younger man was complaining of this fact. "Yes, I know it," said the other man, "but we wouldn't have wanted to miss the train. I believe in playing safe. It doesn't count you anything and it sometimes saves you a lot of inconvenience and time."

There are a great many other people in the world who believe in playing safe because it doesn't count anything. But they are wrong; it frequently does.

Playing safe may cost just as much as playing risky if you play too safe. For instance, take this very matter of catching a train. If you always reach the station from 10 minutes to half an hour ahead of time, you will never miss a train, to be sure, but don't you lose just as much time in waiting, as if you arrived from five minutes to a minute before train time, and once in while missed the train and had to wait an hour or two. To my mind the admirable man in this connection is he whose watch is always right, who knows how long it should take him to get to a train, and who without hurry or flurry, contrives to step on the train just a minute or two before it starts.

Real safety is usually a middle ground between two dangerous extremes. Playing too safe may mean playing unsafe. I know a mother who is very anxious to do the best thing for her children, especially as regards their health. She is always afraid they are going to catch cold and wrapping them up to prevent it. When anyone ventures to suggest that it doesn't seem as if Robert needed that extra sweater or that it surely wouldn't hurt Ruth to take her shoes and stockings off with the other children, the anxious mother answers: "Perhaps it might not do any harm, but I would rather be on the safe side." The result, of course, is that by over-protecting the children, she makes them more susceptible to colds and similar ills.

"Better be sure than sorry," is a motto that can easily be run into the ground by people with too large an imagination to caution. And as people who are inclined to the "safe" side will probably laugh at it, it does just what it was intended to do. It makes those who need no caution feel that they are being cautioned for what instruction it was intended to give.

MODERN FOOTBALL
College students, surgeons and others interested in the scientific dissection of humanity are much interested in the 1914 style of football, samples of which are now being shown in all our leading universities.

On all sides it is conceded that football is becoming less fatal every year. Owing to the improvements in underwear and in methods of handling pneumonia, it is now possible for a college student to stand for hours in the snow beside a football field with his mouth entirely open without feeling any evil effects.

College yells are also showing the result of careful study. The new yells achieve the same far-reaching results without removing the laryngeal coat.

"A young man consisting mostly of voice surrounded by India-rubber arms and legs."

Vest and pants of the producer. Formerly each individual rooster attempted to terrorize the enemy by himself, but modernity has made this unnecessary by the invention of the cheer-leader, a young man consisting mostly of voice surrounded by India rubber arms and legs. Thanks to the cheer-leader, 5,000 students are now able to make the same remark at the same time, thus blowing the hated foe off its feet at a critical moment and allowing the home team to march to victory over the cervical vertebrae of the opposition.

Cheer-leading is now receiving the honors which were formerly wasted on coys, orators and are chosen by the law. The young man who can speak most distinctly to a friend in the next county and who can throw his arms and legs the farthest without losing them altogether gets the job.

Cheer-leading is very exhausting and formerly much time had to be taken out of the game while the cheer-leader was being recruited. This is now obviated by providing substitutes who work while the head cheer-leader is being recharged with compressed air.

Newspaper methods are also being used much more human. Formerly it was the custom to kill off all the members of each team in the hope before the game. This, however, was carried so far that the attendance began to be confined to undertakers. Now the preliminary sports are healthier, and very few players are destroyed in advance.

THE BATTLE OF BUNHEIM

It was a summer evening. Old Kaspar's work was done. And he before his cottage door was sitting in the sun. And by him stood on the green his little grandchild, Wilhelm.

She saw her brother, Peterkin. Roll something large and round which he beside the rivulet.

In playing there had found: His nose to what he had found. That was so large and smooth and round.

Old Kaspar took it from the boy. Who stood expectant by. And then the old man shook his head. And with a natural sigh.

"This poor fellow's skull," said he. "Who fell in the great victory."

"I find them in the garden. For there's many hereabout; And often when I go to plough. The ploughshare turns them out. For many thousand men," said he, "Were slain in that great victory."

"Now tell us what 'twas all about," Young Peterkin he cried. And little Wilhelm looks up. With wonder-waiting eyes.

"Now tell us all about the war. And what they fought each other for."

"It was the English," Kaspar cried. "Who put the French to rout. But what they fought each other for I could not well make out. But everybody said," quoth he, "That 'twas a famous victory."

"My father lived at Bunheim then. Von Little stream hard by. They burnt his dwelling to the ground. And he was forced to fly. So with his wife and child he fled. Nor had he where to rest his head."

"With fire and sword the country round. Was wasted far and wide. And many a childing mother then. And newborn baby died. But that you know, you know, must be. At every famous victory."

"They say it was a shocking sight. After the field was won: For many thousand bodies here Lay rotting in the sun. But things like that you know, must be. After a famous victory."

"Great praise the Duke of Marlborough won. And our good Prince Eugene."

"Who 'twas a very wicked thing!" Said little Wilhelm: "Nay, nay, my little girl, quoth he. 'Twas a famous victory."

"And everybody praised the duke. Who this great fight did win. 'But what good came of it, at last?' Quoth little Peterkin— 'Why, that I cannot tell,' said he, 'But 'twas a famous victory.'"

—Robert Southey.

IN THE EARLY DAYS

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY
SEPTEMBER 10, 1884

The Republican state convention was called to order in the Opera house in this city. The only excitement of the first day's proceedings was caused by the announcement of Congressman J. B. Belford that he was retiring from politics.

Several extra deputy sheriffs and extra police officers were on duty in the city on account of the convention.

Colorado college opened with an increased number of students.

T. T. Palkrove, who lived on the Pike's Peak trail, saw two lynxes fighting near his cabin and shot one with his revolver. It weighed 75 pounds.

E. W. Giddings returned from a business trip to the east which had lasted nearly a month.

How to Keep Well

By Dr. W. A. Evans

One must not only be healthy, but also be happy. The secret of health is not in the stomach, but in the mind. The secret of happiness is not in the mind, but in the heart. The secret of life is not in the heart, but in the soul.

DANGERS OF BATHING

The New York department of health advises the people of that city against bathing in the river. Whereas ocean water 10 miles off Long Branch contained only 50 bacteria to the teaspoonful, that in the upper bay contained 50,000. As most of these bacteria had been washed from people's hair, proportion of them were dangerous to bathers.

The department is interested in the Mikveh bath required by the Hebrew law. Dr. Manheimer studied these and found them a serious menace to health, although not dangerous to anything like the degree of the bath of Mohammedan in the Ganges.

The recommendation of the New York department is that bathing in showers and bathing pools replace open river bathing. A bath with a moderate size pool and 40 showers can be built, they say, for $2,000. When a community reaches 25,000 inhabitants probably the river and all the old time swimming pools have become dangerously polluted.

To purify the water in a swimming pool hypochlorite of lime is dissolved in it. One pound will sterilize 100,000 gallons of water. When lime is bought in bulk, a pool of this size may be disinfected every day for a year at a cost of $5.

To heat the water in a 100,000 gallon pool requires two tons of coal. This would require 104 tons of coal if the water were changed once a week. By purifying the water daily with hypochlorite of lime the water need not be changed more often than once a month and only 24 tons of coal a year will be required.

The water should be filtered before using and then refiltered as occasion requires, but the cost of filtration is slight.

The reporting of venereal diseases is required in New York. This ordinance has been in force since January, 1912. The law is working very well. It prevents no special administrative difficulties.

In May, 1912, the department of health instituted a diagnostic clinic for venereal diseases. At first the average attendance was two a day. At present an average of more than 10 persons a day consult the attending man. Each day 220 Wasserman tests for syphilis and complement fixation tests for gonorrhea infection are made.

At the clinic confidential advice is given relative to venereal diseases. The point is this: Venereal diseases are forms of contagion, and a health department to ignore any form of contagion is pretty expensive for the community of which it is in charge.

EXPERIENCE WITH ECONOMY.
H. D. B. writes: "Your article on 'Cost of Living Solution' is of great interest to me in that I, with a brother, was compelled to solve the problem for myself one winter or starve. We were in the class of men who could not earn enough to buy food with the proper nutrition unless we bought wisely. We worked our way through one winter in one of our western denominational schools and succeeded during six months of that time in living on seven and one-half cents per day. Besides working for all our expenses (outside of the tuition) we walked to and from school, a distance of three miles, and entered heartily into athletics. My brother engaged in three branches—played in every game of football, basketball and baseball. He was captain of the former team. We both made average grades and stood as high as

Adv.
I was annoyed for over a year by attacks of acute indigestion, followed by constipation. After Mrs. M. J. Gallagher, Geneva, N. Y., tried everything that was recommended to me for this complaint, but nothing did me much good until about four months ago I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and procured a bottle of them from our druggist. I soon realized that I had gotten the right thing, for they helped me at once. Since taking two bottles of them I can eat heartily without any bad effects." Sold by all dealers.
